PRACTICAL PARENTING SUPPORT

Formally known as:

Gade Schools Family Support Contributing to Life's Journey

Kings Langley Partnership of Schools

Exciting News:

Our Family Support Partnership is Rebranding!

We are delighted to share that the family support service working alongside our school is changing its name. Gade Family Support and Kings Langley Partnership of Schools is officially rebranding to Practical Parenting Support.

While the name and look are new, the fantastic team and the dedicated support they offer to our school community remain the same. They are still here to help you navigate the ups and downs of family life, offering free, confidential advice and guidance on everything from behaviour management to emotional wellbeing.

You don't need to do anything differently—if you feel your family could benefit from their support, please reach out to your school and they can refer.
